TVM 30-05-2005

A workshop named Inspection Workshop on the National Capacity Self Assessment, NCSA has been held in Male' today. The one-day workshop organized by UNDP and the Ministry of Environment and Construction was held to provide further information on the national capacity self assessment project.

The chief guest of the ceremony, the acting minister of Environment and Construction and the Minister of Fisheries, Agriculture and Marine Resources addressed the inaugural ceremony held at Nasandhura Palace Hotel this morning. In his speech, he highlighted on the importance and significance of such projects to a country with a vulnerable environment. The Deputy Minister of Environment and Construction also addressed the ceremony.

In his speech, he highlighted on the NCSA and its benefits to the Maldives. The UN Resident Coordinator in Maldives, Mr. Patrice Coubizout also spoke at the ceremony. He spoke on the relation between capacity building and environment and spoke on the importance of these workshops during a time the whole of the country is working on recovering the loss and damage to the environment, following the Tsunami disaster.

The workshop was attended by representatives of 8 government offices.
