

Contents

List of boxes, figures and tables	vii
List of contributors	xv
List of acronyms and abbreviations	xvii
Acknowledgements	xxi
Introduction	1
Rathin Roy, Antoine Heuty and Francisco Rodríguez
1 Investing in Development: The Millennium Development Goals, Aid and Sustainable Capital Accumulation	15
Rathin Roy and Antoine Heuty
2 Fiscal Space for What? Analytical Issues from a Human Development Perspective	31
Rathin Roy, Antoine Heuty and Emmanuel Letouzé
3 Fiscal Space for Public Investment: Towards a Human Development Approach	67
Rathin Roy, Antoine Heuty and Emmanuel Letouzé
4 The Fiscal Space Conjecture: Theoretical Reflections	93
Sanjay G. Reddy
5 Understanding Fiscal Expansions	105
Francisco Rodríguez
6 A Review of Four Case Studies on Fiscal Space: Morocco, Senegal, Thailand and Venezuela	133
Indira Rajaraman

7	Guaranteeing Fiscal Space for Human Development in Morocco Jean-François Brun, Gérard Chambas and Fouzi Mourji	165
8	Securing Fiscal Space for the Millennium Development Goals in Senegal Adama Dian, Samuel Guérineau and Sylviane Guillaumont Jeanneney	249
9	The Fiscal Space of Thailand: An Historical Analysis Karel Jansen and Choedchai Khannabha	325
10	Plenty of Room? Fiscal Space in a Resource-Abundant Economy: The Case of Venezuela María Antonia Moreno and Francisco Rodríguez	399
	Appendix: Selected Economic Indicators (2006) for Morocco, Senegal, Thailand and Venezuela	483

List of Boxes, Figures and Tables

BOXES

2.1	The fiscal space diamond	37
2.2	The case of Thailand's developmental transformation	40
7.1	A methodology for assessing tax effort	182
7.2	Shocks, management of government finances and fiscal space	183
7.3	The treasury bond auction market	201
7.4	FEC sectoral programmes	214
7.5	Mobilizing additional resources without creating economic distortions that penalize growth	227
7.6	Opportunities for mobilizing additional resources while reducing inequalities	228
7.7	Prospects for expanding budgetary space without compromising the sustainability of public finances	235

FIGURES

1.1	Regime of accumulation and development outcomes	20
2.1.	The fiscal space diamond	37
2.2	'Scenario 2 country' – exit from aid and scaling up	53
2.A1	The fiscal space diamond: Sierra Leone	61
3.1	Public investment in developing countries, 1970–2000	69
3.2	Public investment in Argentina, Brazil and Mexico, 1970–2000	69
3.3	Public investment by developing region, 1970–2000	70
3.4	Public expenditure 1980–2001 for 11 African countries	71
3.5	Public capital formation by income group, 1980–2005	79
5.1	(a) Expenditures and revenues; (b) deficit and debt to GDP ratios; (c) hazard rate of fiscal expansion	111
5.2	Smoothed hazard function, by region	119
5.3	Conditional hazard functions	126

5.4	Evolution of covariates during fiscal expansions	128
7.1	Trends in public revenues as a percentage of GDP	178
7.2	Changes in the balance of government finances	182
7.3	Changes in the levels of government spending as a percentage of GDP, 1980–2005	185
7.4	Changes in tax structure as a percentage of GDP, 1980–2006	186
7.5	Trends in the real effective exchange rate	201
7.6	Trend in the average cost of internal debt	205
8.1	Changes in rate of public taxation in Senegal, 1970–2003	268
8.2	Changes in the structure of public revenues in Senegal, 1986–2002	269
8.3	Index of real rate of exchange in Senegal and comparison with other member countries of WAEMU, 1994–September 2005	297
9.1	Revenue and expenditure ratios for Thailand	332
9.2	Revenue ratio and economic development	334
9.3	Revenue structure, 1970–2003	337
9.4	State enterprise debt	358
9.5	Budget balance	364
9.6	Seignorage in Thailand	366
9.7	Inflation, 1970–2005	366
9.8	Government debt	368
9.9	Accumulation balances: (a) Private sector saving investment balance; (b) government saving investment balance; (c) state enterprises saving investment balance	371
9.10	External and internal balance	372
9.11	Thai and global interest rates	383
9.12	Private credit expansion	383
9.13	Real exchange rate index	385
10.1	Budget surpluses and oil dependence	401
10.2	Poverty and oil dependence	401
10.3	Consolidated central government surplus, Venezuela, 1972–2003	403
10.4	Poverty and per capita GDP, official estimates, Venezuela, 1998–2005	403
10.5	Real per capita fiscal oil revenues, 1998–2005	404
10.6	Transfers as a percentage of sub-national government revenues	409
10.7	Fraction of employees in public sector employment, Latin America, 1990–2005	411
10.8	Public infrastructure investment in Venezuela and Latin America, 1981–1985	412
10.9	Central government expenditures, 1990–1999	413
10.10	Composition of central government revenue, 1996–2004	413
10.11	Central government and consolidated public sector debt, exchange gains and public debt, 1962–2004	417

10.12	Transfers to public enterprises, 1984–2004	417
10.13	Revenue composition and consolidated public sector revenue results	419
10.14	Oil fiscal revenues	422
10.15	Petroleum taxes and investments, 1947–2003	422
10.16	OPEC world market share and Venezuelan oil price, 1938–2004	423
10.17	Tax collection on domestic consumption of gasoline and oil products, 1962–2004	423
10.18	Tariff revenue and effective rate (collection/imports)	433
10.19	Payroll taxes and salaries and social security, 1970–2003	435
10.20	Growth rate of the informal sector, 1990–2001	436
10.21	Budget law and approved changes	440
10.22	Public sector deposits and credits with the private financial system	445
10.23	Per capita fiscal oil revenues in constant US$, 1943–2001	449
10.24	Composition of public spending, 1978–2000	450
10.25	Public capital stock per worker, 1950–2001	451
10.26	Test scores for scholastic aptitude tests in Venezuela, 1987–2003	452
10.27	Historical and simulated per worker GDP: Scenario of no decline in infrastructure investment	455
10.28	Simulated effect of infrastructure investment on budget deficit	458
10.29	Venezuelan adult literacy rate, 1975–2004	463
10.30	Mercal intensity and change in quality of walls	465
10.31	Mercal intensity and change in quality of ceilings	466
10.32	Mercal intensity and change in quality of floors	466
10.33	Mercal intensity and change in rate of improvement of quality of walls	467
10.34	Mercal intensity and change in trend of quality of ceilings	468
10.35	Mercal intensity and change in trend of quality of floors	468

TABLES

2.1	Savings in France and the UK, 1946–1960	39
2.2	Socio-economic indicators by income group	39
5.1	Summary statistics of fiscal expansions by region	118
5.2	Tests for equality of survival functions	121
5.3	Expansion characteristics by source of expansion	122
5.4	Weibull duration regression, structural controls	123
5.5	Weibull duration regressions, expansion characteristic controls	124
5.6	Stratified Cox duration regressions	127
6.1	Basic indicators: Morocco, Senegal, Thailand and Venezuela	137
6.2	Progress towards MDGs in Morocco, Senegal, Thailand and Venezuela	141
6.3	Ratios of tax revenues to GDP in Morocco, Senegal, Thailand and Venezuela	147

6.4	Composition of own revenue – ratios of taxes to GDP in Morocco, Senegal, Thailand and Venezuela	148
6.5	Public debt levels in Morocco, Senegal, Thailand and Venezuela	152
6.6	Contribution of external savings to national investment in Morocco and Thailand	155
7.1	Poverty, vulnerability and HDI, 1985–2004	170
7.2	Illiteracy rate and net primary school enrolment, 1994–2004	171
7.3	Infant and under-5 mortality rates, 1982–1991 and 1994–2003, and maternal mortality rates, 1987–1991 and 1999–2003	172
7.4	Morocco's tax effort and tax potential: International comparisons, 1980–2003	179
7.5	Econometric equation for determining developing country tax potential	181
7.6	Tax effort of selected countries	181
7.7	Overall trends in government finances in Morocco, 2002–2006	184
7.8	Estimate of losses resulting from the implementation of the EU Association Agreement, 2003–2009	186
7.9	Public debt indicators	200
7.10	Coverage of the government's borrowing need	203
7.11a	Changes in nominal interest rates	204
7.11b	Changes in real interest rates	204
7.12	Changes in savings and investment ratios	206
7.13	Structure of gross national savings	206
7.14	Seignorage and inflation rate	208
7.15	Criteria for determination of the overall VAT grant	210
7.16	Sectoral changes in disbursements	213
7.17	Changes in disbursements by type of client	213
7.18	Trends in expenditure as a percentage of GDP (2002–2006)	224
7.19	Estimates of loss of state revenue deriving from a tax rate of 7% instead of 20%	228
7.20	Estimates of loss of state revenues deriving from a tax rate of 10% instead of 20%	228
7.A1	List of the major categories used for the breakdown of local government revenue and expenditure	237
7.A2	Significant ratios for analysis of the structure of local government revenue and expenditure	238
7.A3	Breakdown of revenue and expenditure items for urban municipalities, provinces and prefectures, and regions	239
7.A4	Ratios for analysis of revenue and expenditure items for urban municipalities, provinces and prefectures, and regions	240
8.1	Main strategic approaches of the Senegal PRSPs	251
8.2	Macroeconomic indicators of Senegal, 2000–2006	252

8.3	Savings–investment balance, 2003–2006	253
8.4	Selected indicators associated with the MDGs	254
8.5	Changes in financing during the first phase of the PRSP	260
8.6	Projected financing requirements linked to actions under the PRSP	261
8.7	Projections of average annual flows from several external donors, 2006–2010	263
8.8	Structure and trends in tax revenues of Senegal, 1996–2003	268
8.9	Resources transferred by the central state to local governments	272
8.10	Free reserves of banks and foreign reserves of the Central Bank	279
8.11	Trends in selected indicators of external public debt	285
8.12	Structure of bank credits in Senegal and in WAEMU, 2003–2005	289
8.13	Nominal and real effective exchange rate in Senegal, 1994–2004	297
8.A1	Balance of payments of Senegal	300
8.A2	Table of TOFE in Senegal	301
8.A3	Local and national governments' direct tax receipts, 2000–2006	303
8.A4	Estimate of the impact of reduction in the corporate tax rate	303
8.A5	Summary accounts of the Central Bank at 31 December 2003–2005	304
8.A6	Central Bank interventions	304
8.A7	Changes in Central Bank intervention rates	305
8.A8	Summary accounts of commercial banks at 31 December 2003–2005	305
8.A9	Summary of West African Monetary Union inter-bank market transactions, 31 May–6 June 2006	306
8.A10	Breakdown of West African Monetary Union inter-bank market operations, 31 May–June 2006	306
8.A11	Monetary survey of Senegal at 31 December 2003–2005	307
8.A12	Net foreign assets of Senegal at 31 December 2003–2005	308
8.A13	Net government position vis-à-vis banking system at 31 December 2003–2005	308
8.A14	Market issuance of negotiable securities	310
8.A15	Public savings bond market issuance	310
8.A16	Breakdown of active public savings securities or securitized instruments	311
8.A17	Size of public debt	312
8.A18	Structure of foreign public debt	313
8.A19	Structure of foreign public debt of Senegal	313
8.A20	Loan conditions of donors	314
8.A21	Trends of selected foreign public debt indicators	315
8.A22	Probability of a debt crisis	315
8.A23	Rescheduling of foreign debt and HIPC debt cancellations	316
9.1	Main economic indicators	327
9.2	Poverty and income distribution	328
9.3	Structure of government expenditures – period averages	336

9.4	Revenue structure – period averages	338
9.5	Comparative tax structure	339
9.6	Decomposition of changes in the revenue ratio	341
9.7	Categories of Thai local governments	347
9.8	Financial transactions of local governments	349
9.9	Operations of non-financial state enterprises	356
9.10	Employment in state enterprises, 1996–1999	360
9.A1	Government expenditure and revenue at constant 1988 prices	393
9.A2	Decomposition of the changes in revenue	394
9.A3	Local governments' revenue structure (2005)	394
10.1	$1 and $2 a day poverty indicators, 1995–2004, CPI based	405
10.2	Source of revenues for Venezuelan entidades federales	410
10.3	Indicators of fiscal performance	418
10.4	Composition of central government and consolidated public sector public revenues, 1970–2003	419
10.5	Cross correlations among revenue types	420
10.6	Central government revenues, 1990–2003	420
10.7	Central government financial results	421
10.8	World proven reserves of oil and natural gas, year end 2004, for selected countries	424
10.9	Retail motor gasoline prices in selected countries, 1990–2004	425
10.10	Taxation of gasoline consumption (simulation)	426
10.11	Non-oil sources of domestic taxation	427
10.12	Total taxes, 1990–2003	428
10.13	Taxes on goods and services, 1990–2003	429
10.14	Chronology of VAT tax rates	430
10.15	VAT simulations	430
10.16	Tax on income, 1990–2003	431
10.17	Taxes on international trade, 1990–2003	433
10.18	Social security contributions, 1990–2003	434
10.19	Social security taxes and contributions	434
10.20	Social security pension rates	436
10.21	General government spending	437
10.22	Revenues of states and municipalities	438
10.23	Changes to the budget during the fiscal year	441
10.24	Overlapping budgets	443
10.25	Credits and deposits, Venezuelan banking sector	444
10.26	Composition of central government spending in Latin America	447
10.27	Gross enrolment rates by level, 1998–2002	448
10.28	Changes in infrastructure investment, Venezuela and Latin America	450
10.29	Enrolment rates by level	451

10.30	FIDES execution percentages, 1998 and 2002	460
10.31	Literacy rates and number of non-literate persons aged 25 years or more, 1975–2004	464
10.A1	Composition of spending by sectors, Ministry of Finance	472
10.A2	Composition of spending by economic classification, Ministry of Finance	474