#NEXTGENUNDP AT A GLANCE

Denmark's support underpins UNDP's commitment to Agenda 2030

UNDP is at the heart of the UN system. Today's development challenges – from forced displacement to protracted conflicts and climate change – cannot be dealt with in isolation. As a support platform of the UN Development System and the Resident Coordinators, UNDP helps countries accelerate progress through our SDG integration function, providing integrated policy and programming solutions and innovation to help pioneer new ways of doing development. In this context, UNDP is a key partner to deliver on Denmark's international development priorities.

Denmark's support for UNDP's core mandate enables us to:

- Focus on the poorest: 86% of core programme resources are allocated to Low Income Countries
- Respond quickly and flexibly to crises like earthquakes, tsunamis or conflict
- Be accountable, efficient and transparent – and publish the results of what we do

Denmark's support is making a difference to people's lives by helping to stabilize societies and rebuild institutions.

THE SAHEL

- UNDP supported the development and approval of the Lake Chad Stabilization Strategy with the African Union and Lake Chad Basin Commission.
- In Mali UNDP worked to improve prison conditions, training 450 prison officials in the UN Guidelines for treatment of prisoners and providing 400 prisoners with skills to aid their rehabilitation and reintegration on release.

IN IRAQ

- 4 million of the country's nearly 6 million displaced people had returned to areas covered by the engagement of UNDP and its partners.
- 1 million people regained basic services like access to housing, security and justice systems.
- 4.7 million have better access to electricity, 2.6 million people have better access to health care, 2.3 million have access to improved water supply, and 490,000 young people have better access to education.
