Ten Guiding Principles

1. Working by, with and for young people as initiators, collaborators and target groups, by further integrating youth across UNDP programming and assisting programme countries to create mechanisms that empower, engage and include young people – especially the vulnerable and marginalized.

2. Protecting youth human rights by promoting a human-rights based approach to programming and developing the capacity of young people to claim and exercise their economic, political, social, civil and cultural rights.

3. Reflecting the pivotal significance of gender equality and empowerment of young women, understanding that sustainable human development will not be fully achieved unless women and girls are able to contribute on an equal basis with men and boys to their societies.

4. Seeking sustainable human development through livelihood creation for poor youth and, in all action, being guided by processes that enlarge young people’s choices by expanding their capabilities and opportunities in ways that are sustainable from the economic, social and environmental standpoints, benefiting the present without compromising the future.

5. Being guided by national ownership and leadership, including youth leadership, with programme countries making decisions about how best to meet their young people’s aspirations and with UNDP helping to develop the policies, leadership skills, partnering abilities and institutional capacities that can sustain results for youth.

6. Ensuring youth participation and voice in pursuit of equitable access for young women and young men to development opportunities, recognizing young people as agents of positive change for their own development, strengthening youth civic engagement and participation in politics and public institutions.

7. Encouraging innovation for transformational change, by investing in the development of new and innovative tools and approaches, and considering throughout, the potential to replicate and scale up successful experiences.

8. Advancing South-South and triangular cooperation to promote the exchange of knowledge, experiences, best practices and other resources that promise development solutions for youth, especially Southern solutions generated by young entrepreneurs.

9. Optimizing youth volunteerism for development to engage young people in tackling development challenges, gaining both skills and strengthening trust and solidarity in society, and creating opportunities for participation.

10. Sharing inter-generational knowledge by supporting the two-way transfer of information and experiences between younger and older generations, strengthening dialogue between traditional community leadership, elders and young people, especially in conflict and post-conflict contexts.
