Foreword

2015 UNDP onboard alongside economic liberalization (triple transition) in the 2013-2017 (state-building) found that the objectives of nation-building are still relevant and important. In this regard, the UN World Economic Forum's 2015 report found that, in particular, nation-building is crucial for the successful implementation of economic liberalization policies.

2015 to 2016, the UNDP and UN Women have been working together to support the implementation of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development in the country. This document provides an overview of the progress made in the implementation of the 2030 Agenda in the context of the national development agenda. It highlights the achievements and challenges faced in achieving the goals and targets set out in the Agenda.

The overview is based on the country’s national reports submitted to the United Nations on the progress made in implementing the Agenda. The reports cover key areas such as poverty reduction, gender equality, health, education, and the environment. The document also provides information on the financial resources mobilized and the partnerships established in support of the Agenda.

The implementation of the 2030 Agenda requires a collective effort by all stakeholders, including governments, civil society organizations, the private sector, and the public at large. The UNDP and UN Women are committed to supporting the country in its efforts to achieve the goals of the Agenda.

In conclusion, the implementation of the 2030 Agenda is a shared responsibility that requires collective action and a commitment to leaving no one behind. The UNDP and UN Women stand ready to support the country in its journey toward a more sustainable and equitable future.
