CAMP OVERVIEW

The Krisan Camp located in the Ellembele District of the Western Region was opened in 1996 initially to host a large group of Liberian refugees who were fleeing conflict. Subsequently, Krisan camp was used to host Togolese refugees who were relocated following the closure of the Klikor Camp in the Volta Region, as well as Sudanese refugees and asylum seekers who arrived in early 2000s. Since then the Ghana Refugee Board and UNHCR have relocated refugees and asylum seekers of various nationalities, especially those with special protection needs, facing accommodation challenges in Accra to Krisan, and this has given the camp a multinational nature. The Government of Ghana provides assistance in the provision of camp management through NADMO and the general oversight of operations through the Ghana Refugee Board. UNHCR continues to receive favourable collaborations from Ghana Immigration Service, Police, the District and the Municipal Assemblies, as well as the Ghana Health Service.

WORKING WITH PARTNERS

Partnership is central to UNHCR’s work, in particular in the search for durable solutions and provision of equal access to basic services and fostering sustainable livelihoods. At the camp level, UNHCR works closely with the Ghana Refugee Board (GRB) and Implementing Partners who are responsible for implementing UNHCR’s protection and mixed solutions programming. The National Catholic Secretariat (NCS) is responsible for Health, Nutrition, Water and Sanitation, Food and Non-food items, as well as shelter. The Christian Council of Ghana (CCG) is responsible for Basic Education for refugees, and the Adventist Development and Relief Agency (ADRA) is responsible for implementing livelihood programmes which include skills training, apprenticeship programmes, small business support, English proficiency classes and agriculture. UNHCR cooperates with state agencies such as Ghana Immigration Services, Ghana Health Services, Ghana Education Service, Department of Social Development, Domestic Violence and Victim Support Unit (DOVVSU) and other relevant government agencies and departments in ensuring asylum-seekers and refugees have effective access to basic and protection services. UNHCR also receives operational support from UNFPA, IOM and UNAIDS.

- Successful renovation of Krisan Camp police post to acceptable standards.
- As part of the process of integrating refugee healthcare into Ghana Health Service, UNHCR has enrolled all refugees in Krisan onto the NHIS to increase access to state health facilities.
- Full integration of refugee education services; Krisan Camp primary school is part of the Ghana Education Service basic and social services for Krisan based refugees; residents access host community education and health facilities.
CHALLENGES

- Difficulty in solid waste management in the camps due to high costs of service.
- No age appropriate activities for children and young teens.
- Difficulty in securing more scholarships for refugee youth for secondary as well as tertiary education.
- Fixation of Krisan refugees on resettlement makes it difficult to discuss livelihood projects and other durable solutions.
