

Journalists urged to lobby for duty-free vehicles

Local News

By Rex Mphisa | Jun. 11, 2024 | 1 Min read

Tax Education Campaign

ZIMBABWEAN journalists have been urged to lobby government for duty-free vehicle imports to enable them to effectively discharge their duties as essential service providers.

ZIMBABWEAN journalists have been urged to lobby government for duty-free vehicle imports to enable them to effectively discharge their duties as essential service providers.

The call was made by a United Nations Development Programme (UNDP) official at a Zimbabwe Revenue Authority (Zimra)-organised media workshop in Masvingo on Tuesday.

Advertisements

"You may, through your unions like the Zimbabwe Union of Journalists lobby the Economic Development when they prepare their budgets to make that consider Tshuma, the UNDP coordinator for tax on strategic development goals.

"Journalists move from place to place gathering information about the population an important role. Considerations for duty-free vehicle imports are possible," he

Tshuma was reacting to a question by a journalist who asked Customs and Excise motor vehicle rebates for civil servants and parliamentarians yet the same facilities for journalists despite their key role in society.

“This suggestion has been made at a number of workshops we have held and it unions make representations,” he added .

The UNDP has partnered the Zimra to train journalists on tax education and n drawn from different media houses in southern Zimbabwe. The workshop is pa create synergies with the media.

Keep Reading

- > Zimra seizes CCC campaign vehicle
- > ZDI defends AK-47 rifles 'smugglers'
- > Firearms smuggling suspect weeps in court
- > Fresh calls to scrap 2% tax

Related Topics

United Nations Development Programme

Zimbabwe Revenue Authority

S H A R E T H I S A R T I C L E O N S O C I A L

