

UNDP - Norway Partnership

As one of our largest government contributors, Norway is a vital partner in UNDP's mission to end extreme poverty, reduce inequality and achieve the goals of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development. UNDP's work and the priorities of the Norwegian Government converge in many areas, especially in our shared ambition to help countries reach the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) through promoting democratic governance; strengthening national prevention capacities and building resilience; and action on climate change and the environment.

From 2014 to 2017 Norway contributed $324m to earmarked ("non-core") programmes, disbursed across the following regions:

In 2017 Norway contributed

$64m

to unearmarked "core" funding, enabling UNDP to help the poorest and respond quickly to crises

11% of UNDP's vital core funding came from Norway

The top five development outcomes supported by Norway, 2014-2017, were:

$85m

earmarked to programmes ("non-core") including:

- Over $11m for promoting environmental sustainability or addressing climate change.
- $4.2m earmarked for democratic governance for peace and development ($2.4m) and conflict prevention ($1.8m) through UNDP's Thematic Funding Windows

Norway hosts the Oslo Governance Centre, one of five UNDP Global Policy Centres, providing it with some $2.6m per year. The Centre supports applied research and policy dialogue on inclusive governance in crisis, conflict and transitional contexts, and the implementation and monitoring of SDG 16: peace, justice and strong institutions.

Results on the Ground

In some of the most challenging development contexts in the world, Norwegian support is making a difference to people's lives by helping to stabilize societies and rebuild institutions.

The top ten recipients of Norwegian funding through UNDP from 2014 to 2017 were Afghanistan, Indonesia, Iraq, Programme for the Palestinian People, South Sudan, Mali, Peru, Mexico, Nepal and Lebanon. The figure below illustrates just some of the results achieved in that time, thanks to the support of Norway and other donors.

More Efficient, Effective and Transparent

UNDP is committed to managing resources efficiently and delivering maximum value for every dollar invested. During 2014-16 we saved $33m a year and decentralized capacity to the regions, connecting staff more closely to results on the ground and increasing the flexibility of our workforce. Our new Strategic Plan promises continuous improvement: overhauling our business processes to match the best management practices of the 21st century, building innovation and dynamism into the way we work. These improvements will make us better able to deliver—and measure—stronger results for those we serve.

Delivering Results

When you invest in UNDP, you invest in the entire UN Development System—helping deliver better results for the world's poorest and most vulnerable.

Donors' support to our essential unearmarked "core" funding enables us to:

- Focus on the poorest: 86% of core programme resources are allocated to Low Income Countries
- Respond quickly and flexibly to crises like earthquakes, tsunamis or conflict
- Leverage additional financing—for every $1 of core resources invested in Middle Income Countries, we leverage $32 in other resources
- Maintain the managerial backbone that safeguards the quality and integrity of UNDP operations, ensuring we are accountable, efficient and transparent
- Underpin our programmes with policy expertise on human rights, gender equality and the empowerment of women and girls, and help us apply robust social and environmental standards to all our projects.

UNDP is at the heart of the UN system, working closely with other UN entities for stronger collective impact. For example, we provide shared services (like payroll and common premises) to other agencies so they can operate in hard-to-reach areas. As part of reforms to make the UN system more effective and efficient, UNDP's global and country support platforms will help governments and partners collaborate on integrated solutions to their biggest development challenges, while strengthening links across development, humanitarian and sustaining peace efforts.
