

UNDP - Switzerland Partnership

As one of our largest government contributors, Switzerland is a vital partner in UNDP's mission to end extreme poverty, reduce inequality and achieve the goals of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development. UNDP's work and the priorities of the Swiss Government converge in many areas, especially in our shared ambition to help countries reach the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) through promoting conflict prevention, good governance and inclusive economic development.

From 2014 to 2017 Switzerland contributed $230m to earmarked ("non-core") programmes, disbursed across the following regions...

In 2017 Switzerland contributed

$57m

to unearmarked "core" funding, enabling UNDP to help the poorest and respond quickly to crises

9% of UNDP's vital core funding came from Switzerland

$58m

earmarked to specific themes or programmes ("non-core") including:

- $19m to strengthen democratic governance and expand economic opportunities in Eastern Europe and Central Asia
- $2.1m earmarked for emergency development response to crisis and recovery through UNDP's Thematic Funding Windows

...and against the following development outcomes (top 5, USD millions)

Switzerland hosts a UNDP representation office in Geneva, advancing collaboration between international organisations, Swiss civil society, academia and the private sector on human rights, health, humanitarian action, environment, climate change and disaster risk response.

Results on the Ground

Swiss support, through UNDP, is making a difference to people's lives by helping to stabilize societies and rebuild institutions in some of the most challenging development contexts in the world.

The top ten recipients of Swiss funding through UNDP from 2014 to 2017 were Bosnia and Herzegovina, Afghanistan, Cuba, Georgia, Pakistan, Tajikistan, Former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia, Lao People's Democratic Republic, Syria and Tunisia. The figure below illustrates just some of the results achieved worldwide in that time, thanks to the support of Switzerland and other donors.

More Efficient, Effective and Transparent

UNDP is committed to managing resources efficiently and delivering maximum value for every dollar invested. During 2014-16 we saved $33m a year and decentralized capacity to the regions, connecting staff more closely to results on the ground and increasing the flexibility of our workforce. Our new Strategic Plan promises continuous improvement: overhauling our business processes to match the best management practices of the 21st century, building innovation and dynamism into the way we work. These improvements will make us better able to deliver—and measure—stronger results for those we serve.

Delivering Results

When you invest in UNDP, you invest in the entire UN Development System—helping deliver better results for the world's poorest and most vulnerable.

Donors' support to our essential unearmarked "core" funding enables us to:

- Focus on the poorest: 86% of core programme resources are allocated to Low Income Countries
- Respond quickly and flexibly to crises like earthquakes, tsunamis or conflict
- Leverage additional financing—for every $1 of core resources invested in Middle Income Countries, we leverage $32 in other resources
- Maintain the managerial backbone that safeguards the quality and integrity of UNDP operations, ensuring we are accountable, efficient and transparent
- Underpin our programmes with policy expertise on human rights, gender equality and the empowerment of women and girls, and help us apply robust social and environmental standards to all our projects

UNDP is at the heart of the UN system, working closely with other UN entities for stronger collective impact. For example, we provide shared services (like payroll and common premises) to other agencies so they can operate in hard-to-reach areas. As part of reforms to make the UN system more effective and efficient, UNDP's global and country support platforms will help governments and partners collaborate on integrated solutions to their biggest development challenges, while strengthening links across development, humanitarian and sustaining peace efforts.
