The United Kingdom's support underpins UNDP's commitment to Agenda 2030 and the Sustainable Development Goals

UNDP is at the heart of the UN system. Today's development challenges – from forced displacement to protracted conflicts and climate change – cannot be dealt with in isolation.

The United Kingdom's support to UNDP's core mandate enables us to:

Focus on the poorest: 86% of core programme resources are allocated to Low Income Countries

Respond quickly and flexibly to crises like earthquakes, tsunamis or conflict

Be accountable, efficient and transparent – and publish the results of what we do

IN LEBANON

850,000 host community members and Syrian refugees in Lebanon gained access to services and improved their livelihoods.

168,000 women were beneficiaries of recovery programmes.

IN BANGLADESH

3 million rural people without bank accounts received financial services through digital centres supported by UNDP.

With IOM, UNDP supported Government to integrate migration into national development strategies

IN IRAQ

4 million of the country's nearly 6 million displaced people returned to areas covered by the engagement of UNDP and its partners.

2.6 million people have better access to health care, 2.3 million have access to improved water supply, 4.7 million have better access to electricity, and 490,000 young people have better access to education.
