

Edition 02/22

February Highlights

About UNDP | Events | Publications

UNDP Lesotho

Country Office Engagement on the new UNDP strategic plan

UNDP Lesotho Country Office (CO) undertook a collaborative team engagement of the 2022-2025 UNDP Strategic Plan as a means of adopting the new value and direction of the new strategic plan. The CO team engagement leveraged on creating a better awareness of the core values, directions of change, the six signature solutions and the three enablers of the strategic plan for better alignment and scale to UNDP Lesotho programming to the strategic plan and the Africa Promise.

Read more

We've put more energy into our Strategic Plan

'Betty Wabunoha & Bee Keeper

RR Field Mission

The UNDP Lesotho's Resident Representative, Ms. Betty Wabunoha, visited the Mohale's Hoek and Quthing communities to experience first-hand the impact of UNDP Projects in building resilient Basotho Read more

UNDP Employer Brand Ambassador

As part of the implementation of the UNDP people for 2030 strategy, UNDP has appointed UNDP Employer Brand Ambassadors, these are UNDP representatives who have a compelling story to tell on being a part of a life-changing mission working for UNDP. Read more

'Lerato Brown

'Basotho Farmers

Establishing a Forum for narrative labelling for Slow Food in Lesotho

The call for agricultural entrepreneurship echoes evermore loudly across the expanses of farmland nestled in the valleys and bases of the mountains of Lesotho. Eager to leap beyond the paltry returns from subsistence farming (with only 27, 897mt of total national crop yields for maize, sorghum and wheat in 2019/20. Read more

#FutureSmartUNDP

Development is changing.
So are we.

Waste site at Masowe 1, Maseru Lesotho

Towards A Plastic Free Southern Africa

UNDP leveraged the power of the Accelerator Lab (AccLab) network that led to a South – South cooperation between Lesotho and Eswatini in the creation of an experiment that is aimed at tackling plastic waste problem. Read more

Equity, Diversity and Inclusion: Females wanting to be seen in STEM

UNDP Lesotho recognizes the importance of equity, a reflection of diversity and the inclusion of all human beings in their development agenda. The inclusion of women in all areas of development and industries, and especially in STEM is of paramount importance within a society which has denied women multitudes of opportunities. Read more

Model UN at Machabeng College

Betty Wabunoha

A Social Discourse on Human-Centric Development:

21st Non-Governmental Organization (NGO) week and the 31st Annual General Meeting of the Lesotho Council of Non-Governmental Organizations (LCN) themed 'COVID-19 - A Clarion Call for Citizen Activism: Protecting Citizens' Voice in the Reforms Process'. Read more

Let's outsmart tomorrow

Strategic Plan 2022-2025

RRReview of Progress to Democratic Initiatives of Lesotho

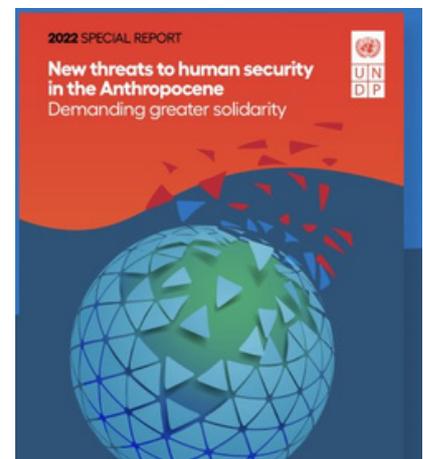

Support to Implementation of Justice Sector Reforms Project

On the back of the Southern African Development Community (SADC)'s recommendations for a national dialogue and reforms process to address the Lesotho Justice Sector weaknesses, UNDP Lesotho in partnership with the Delegation of the European Union and the government of Lesotho undertook the Support to Implementation of the Justice Sector Reforms Project from 1st May 2020.

Read more

New threats to human security in the Anthropocene: Demanding greater solidarity"

The concept of human security was first introduced in UNDP's 1994 HDR. That report signaled a radical departure from the idea that people's security should be only assessed by looking at territorial security. It emphasized the importance of people's basic needs, their dignity, and their safety to live secure lives. Read more

2022 Special Report

